NEW PATIENT REFERRAL INFORMATION

Welcome to the eye clinic. As this might be your first trip to our office, we wanted to help ensure we address your eye care needs and questions. Below, you'll find information about our providers, office contact information, and blank space to write your questions for us.

Gregory A. Stainer, MD

Ophthalmologist

Dr. Stainer is a comprehensive ophthalmologist who has a long-standing well-respected reputation in Bakersfield as he has served the community for over 25 years. Dr. Stainer did his ophthalmology training at Northwestern University in Chicago as well as a cornea fellowship at the University of California San Diego.

Sunny Singh Walia, MD

Ophthalmologist: Refractive Surgery

Dr. Walia is a comprehensive ophthalmologist with extensive training at Emory University in Atlanta, GA (annually ranked as a top-8 eye hospital in the USA). Dr. Walia has dozens of publications in peer-reviewed journals as well as cataract training from Harvard University. He welcomes all clinical concerns with a specialty within neuro-ophthalmology. Dr. Walia accepts new patients and has a surgical focus on macular degeneration, diabetic retinopathy, cataract, LASIK, glaucoma, and eyelid surgeries.

Jack Groves, OD

Optometrist

Dr. Groves has served the Shafter and Bakersfield community for over 30 years with an amazing reputation that is well deserved. Dr. Groves welcomes all clinical concern with a primary focus in refractive visual error, glasses, gas-permeable contact lens, and glaucoma management.

Nhan Le, OD

Optometrist

Dr. Le is a Board-Certified Optometrist from Anaheim, California. Dr. Le graduated with Honors from InterAmerican University School of Optometry. He is a member of the Beta Sigma Kappa Optometry Honors Society. While providers care for our veterans within the VA system Dr. Le was awarded the Johnson & Johnson Award for Excellence in Contact Lens.
